

BISHOP SPOONER GOES ON HOLIDAY

ANIL,
Perth, Australia

First stop, Australia. (AIL, AUSTRIA!) His reaction: Australia? STRAY, ALL YA! Surprisingly, he gave all eight Oz capital cities good loving (?) Spoonfuls, some cognates.

Adelaide , AID A LAD.
Brisbane , BIZ BRAIN	Biz can mean business or the business (feces).
Canberra , BANK ERROR	Seat of Government. Say no more.
Darwin , WAR DIN	The only Oz city bombed in WWII.
Hobart , BEAU HEART
Melbourne , BILL MOURN.
Perth , EARTH PEE.	Or in Pig Latin, EARTH, PAY!
Sydney , NEED SEE!	This one's a bit forced, like all PR.

Is there an Austrian STRAUSSIAN in the audience who can even the score with spoonerisms of your cities, EVEN A Vienna? I've recorded here for you to translate eighty more world cities that the Bishop abused on his itinerary. Many names can be Spoonerised in various ways, so if you can't see one right away, experiment. Several rely on the British/Oz/New England pronunciation of "-er" or "-or" as a schwa ("uh"). Vowels may or may not be swapped along with the consonant(s), as in Ankara 'CAN' AURA. (Apologies to the Turkish capital, as well as to other cities desecrated herein! Some were luckier and received a PR plug.) A few slightly forced examples are allowed if particularly neat. The imperfect or tricky ones as well as less familiar cities are given separately and have answers out back, but the easy half up first should need none. They'll warm up your skills at spooning so the quiz should be a breeze if you know geography or have a good atlas or gazetteer handy. As a clue, both lists are alphabetical by city name, reading across, except the last four in the Quiz, for spacing reasons. They start with G, K, P and R.
